8:00 a.m. – 9:00 a.m.

Speaker: Robert Hoffman, MD – Nationwide Children's Hospital

Title: Type 1 Diabetes: What's New? What's Next?

Educational Objectives:

1. Describe new technology in use with pediatric type 1 diabetes.
2. Discuss recent and new research regarding diabetes prevention.
3. Understand results of long term studies of islet cell transplant in type 1 diabetes.

Robert Hoffman, MD, is a member of the Section of Endocrinology and Metabolism at Nationwide Children's Hospital and a Professor of Pediatrics at The Ohio State University College of Medicine. He received his medical degree from The Ohio State University in 1981, followed by pediatric internship and residency at Children's Hospital Medical Center of Akron, Ohio, and a pediatric endocrine fellowship at Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh in Pennsylvania. He is board certified by the American Board of Pediatrics (ABP) and ABP Sub-board of Pediatric Endocrinology.

Dr. Hoffman's research interests include hypoglycemia in Type 1 diabetes, insulin resistance, endothelial function and puberty. His teaching activities include education on Type 1 diabetes in children and adolescents, hypoglycemia in infants and children and growth disorders, regionally and internationally. He is a member of the Nationwide Children's Hospital Thyroid Cancer Program. Administratively, he is the Director for the Fellowship Program.
