Congenital Heart Disease Awareness: Tell Us Your Why and How

February 18, 2023

When your child needs a hospital, everything matters.

Congenital Heart Disease Awareness: Tell Us Your Why and How

February 18, 2023

Program Description

Advocacy means taking action on something important to you. This event will discuss the importance of Congenital Heart Disease (CHD) advocacy and discover the many ways that you can get involved.

Hear personal stories from families impacted by CHD and how they are active in CHD advocacy and awareness. Visit the display tables from local and national organizations.

This is a great way to make connections with others who share your passion and journey!
